GOMORRAH – THE ORIGINS

UPCOMING SERIES

6 x ONE HOUR | PERIOD CRIME | ITALIAN

The prequel to the worldwide phenomenon GOMORRAH reunites the creative team that brought you the acclaimed crime series based on Roberto Saviano's best-selling novel.

GOMORRAH THE ORIGINS

Naples, 1977. Pietro is a tough city kid who grew up in the poorest parts of Secondigliano. He and his friends survive any way they can, riding their mopeds around town and committing petty theft. But Pietro has a big dream: to become like Angelo 'A Sirena, the neighborhood's "king". When he manages to get in the graces of the young boss, Pietro finds himself caught in a power game far beyond him. He ends up wondering whether this dark, violent criminal life is really what he wants, or if his love for Imma can save him from such a fate.

48 x ONE HOUR (5 SEASONS) | PERIOD CRIME | GERMAN

The final season of the multi-awarded international hit series set in Berlin in the 1930’s, a hotbed of crime and politics, sex and drugs, emancipation, and extremism.

Berlin, January 30, 1933: Adolf Hitler becomes Reich Chancellor. As the end of the Weimar Republic looms, the darkest chapter in German history begins. On March 5, 1933, new elections will give Hitler’s party complete power. But in these five weeks preceding the election, every single person in Germany is faced with difficult decisions: to adapt, to risk open opposition, or to flee. And while Gereon disappears from the face of the earth, Charlotte digs deep into a mysterious case of a series of murders of former front-line soldiers. There are growing signs that there is a direct link to Gereon’s past – and that of the new Reich Chancellor...

With her royal wedding coming up, Maxima finally gets to know her new home, the Netherlands, and their people. They welcome her kindly, albeit soberly; but maintaining the love of the Dutch people is even harder than winning it. At court, Maxima also soon realizes that through all the glamour, a princess' life is stacked with rules. Not even her wedding dress is exempt! As a spirited Argentine, Maxima's not always subtle resistance to protocol creates tensions, especially with Queen Beatrix, who always puts the interests of the monarchy first. Maxima learns what is really expected of her: an heir to the throne. Caught between her ambitions and family dynamics, Maxima struggles to establish her position within the royal house. From here on out, up to the coronation ten years later, she must find the delicate balance between living her true self and embracing the responsibilities of a mother and a future queen.

SERIES

6 x ONE HOUR | PERIOD DRAMA | GERMAN

History, remixed: Bursting with opulence, modern beats, and unforgettable images, this tale of ambition and deception gives voice to Mozart's overlooked sister. From the producers of the international hit SISI comes another iconic female figure for a global audience.

Mozart MOZART

Everybody knows the musical genius Mozart – but his sister, Maria Anna, has long been overshadowed by Wolfgang Amadeus. He is the one and only “wunderkind,” a superstar with a boatload of issues, but Maria Anna is just as talented as her brother. When he is fired from a position in Salzburg, she sees a chance to escape the prospect of an arranged marriage by helping him secure a position at the court of Emperor Joseph II in Vienna. But Amadeus' erratic behavior jeopardizes their plan. So, she slips into the role of her brother, performing for the Emperor disguised as Amadeus – captivating the entire court and drawing the envy of Mozart's greatest rival, Antonio Salieri. But her bold stunt quickly gets out of control. When Maria Anna convinces the Emperor to commission the first German-language opera, she must protect her charade, juggle her brother's unpredictability, and keep her secret from the love of her life – who happens to be none other than Antonio Salieri.

10 x ONE HOUR | DRAMEDY | FRENCH

The new series by Florence Longpré (AUDREY’S BACK), turning her unique, sensitive, and quirky view on the patients and medical staff of a secure psychiatric institute.

EMPATHY

After two years of absence, young psychiatrist-criminologist Suzanne returns to work. While she used to work with the police, now, she decided to take a job at a secure psychiatric facility – a step down for someone with her qualifications. Here, she deals with the most severe and dangerous psychiatric cases. Two years after a traumatic incident, Suzanne is still in shock and mourning. While her empathy allows her to understand her patients, she has lost all empathy for herself. Feeling that she has nothing left to lose, she resorts to rather unorthodox treatment methods, unsettling some of her new colleagues. Not Mortimer though, who also seems to hide great vulnerability. Kindred spirits, Suzanne and Mortimer become friends. What initially seemed like a professional failure might ultimately prove to be a lifesaving experience for Suzanne. Who could imagine that in the darkest corners of existence, you can find a light?

The glamorous world of the Spanish fashion house is brought to the dazzling center of style: present-day New York City.

After losing her mother, Ana moves from Mexico to New York with her uncle Emilio, who works at Velvet, a prestigious fashion house. As a young seamstress, Ana falls in love with Alberto, Velvet's heir. They become childhood sweethearts, though their love is disapproved of by his powerful family. When Alberto leaves to study abroad, their bond endures. Years later, they reunite at Velvet, but face family intrigues, social pressures, and Alberto's arranged marriage of convenience to Cristina. When Alberto is presumed dead, Ana – pregnant and heartbroken – fights to build a future, rising to fame as a designer. Meanwhile, Alberto, alive but suffering from amnesia, is manipulated by Cristina. But neither lies, nor ruthless schemes can keep Ana and Alberto apart. Set against the vibrant glamour of New York, this U.S. adaptation of the acclaimed Spanish hit series VELVET brings timeless passion and intrigue to a dazzling new stage.

THE COUPLE
NEXT DOOR
Deadly Attraction

Together since med school, Charlotte and Jacob's lives and careers have proceeded exactly as they always expected: a lovely home, happily child free, with the time and the money to do whatever they want. They truly are a high-powered couple: she, a brilliant heart surgeon; he, a consultant anesthetist. When Charlotte's old flame Leo is revealed to be a potential new investor at the hospital, Jacob's long-suppressed worries about his work and in his marriage start to bubble to the surface. And when the mysterious nurse Mia comes into their lives, she soon works her way into Jacob's and Charlotte's street, their confidence, and even their bed, befriending neighborhood outcast Alan along the way. But is Mia the bright nurse she appears to be? And why do patients at the hospital start dying? One thing is clear: Giving in to your desires could have deadly consequences.

Part adventure, part family comedy, part social satire: The amusing double life of Rémi and Justine Blanchet – bourgeois by day, burglars by night.

A LOVELY MESS

ROB THE RICH

The bourgeois couple Justine and Rémi are on the verge of becoming upper middle class by joining the ultra-exclusive Ravel Club. But suddenly, they find themselves ruined and deprived of any source of income. Unable to accept this decline and to save face at all costs, the couple gradually crosses over to the dark side. By night, they start robbing the very people they lunch with by day – becoming the Bonnie and Clyde of Northern France! Against all odds, this unlikely criminal spiral leads them to rediscover each other – and even brings the whole family closer together. While their illegal activities paradoxically pave the way for a personal rebirth, they also trigger suspicion, danger, and a police investigation – led with great zeal by Kathy, the mother of their son's girlfriend. They will finally open their eyes to the dark truth about the Ravel Club they so desperately wanted to be part of: They crossed every line, just to impress a bunch of white-collar criminals.

EMPIRE OKTOBERFEST

Munich, 1900. After running for nearly a century, the Oktoberfest is a major source of income – especially for the city's brewery bosses. Many, like the small brewery owned by Ignaz and Maria Hoflinger, rely on these profits to make it through another year. Others, like the Nuremberg brewer Curt Prank, want to get in on the market to increase their riches. His ruthless acquisition methods upset the balance of power. Resisting his shadowy buy-out, Maria soon pays a bloody price for sticking to her guns. The thirst for revenge leads to a devastating and vicious war breaking out among Munich's beer mafia, revealing the ugly face that lurks behind the festive façade of the Oktoberfest. Yet when love between Maria's son Roman and Curt's daughter Clara is blossoming, Roman and Curt enter an uneasy alliance that will only lead to superficial peace. Because the conflicts between the rivals explode once more at the Oktoberfest 1905...

THE GREAT CHIMERA

1931. Eager to flee her scarring family past in Trieste, the beautiful Marina falls in love with Greek sea captain Yannis. She follows him to the sun-blazed island of Syros to begin a new married life in the home of her distrustful mother-in-law. As Marina aspires to find freedom and a sensory heaven worthy of her obsession with classical Greek culture, Yannis strives to build a shipping empire with her financial support. Marina enjoys her new life, but she is soon charmed by his younger brother Minas, a brilliant Athens-based law student. But when disaster upends Yannis' business and forces him back on the seas, the gods and monsters of Greece show their wrath. Isolated and with a child, Marina succumbs to her desire, her world sliding into a vortex of love, passion, and death. As she still struggles to define herself, this tumultuous love triangle will lead to dire consequences worthy of her most beloved ancient Greek tragedies.

KOMAR

Mersiha works as a journalist, and she is the pride of her family. When her parents discover that she didn't tell them about her relationship with Miki, they want to meet him at once. But just before that is supposed to happen, Miki travels to visit his mother, and his bus mysteriously vanishes in the Komar mountains. With no sign of the bus and only some of the passengers turning up, the police are stumped. Meanwhile, the rest of travelers wake up on the bus and find it parked in the middle of a meadow surrounded by forest. They cannot catch a mobile signal, and their explorations don't lead anywhere. Where are they? Mersiha and her best friend, Jasna, set out to unravel this mystery, but dark forces are trying to thwart their efforts. It seems that these forces are reaching far back into the past, to a secret government program that leads Mersiha to question the presence – and even reality itself.

STABLE-ISH

16-year-old Greta is haunted by a tragic accident that claimed her sister's life — an accident she believes was her fault. Wracked with guilt and unable to cope, she ends up in a psychiatric ward, feeling utterly alone. But she's not. There's Alireza, who struggles with a crushing depression; Michelle, who turns her pain to self-harm; and Frederick, whose rage simmers just beneath the surface. Under the care of Dr. Kim and her dedicated team, these teens begin a difficult but hopeful journey towards healing. Through therapy and shared experiences, bonds form. Together, they cry, clash, laugh, and sometimes lash out. In the end though, there might be a way for them to just feel a little more... stable-ish.

Alex is heartbroken. Back home from a five-week holiday on Bali, she is excited to reunite with her boyfriend Mikkel. With their relationship on a "break," Alex is hopeful that they'll pick things up again. Instead, he dumps her – while they are having sex! Her best friend Sara has only one piece of advice: Go out on dates, it's time for a rebound. But while Alex is interested in a guy she meets at her flat party, Lucas, he is not ready for a relationship. And on top of that, Alex still has hopes of getting back together with Mikkel. As she goes on the dating apps, Alex falls into a cycle of hooking up with random strangers while neglecting her own emotional needs. Now, she must figure out her new life and start dealing with the scary feeling of being alone. Maybe it's not so much about being with someone, but about finding a way to love yourself?

SKAM KOREA - FRAGILE

Like all her classmates, Ji Yu is pressured to pursue perfection rather than her dreams, always worried about disappointing their parents. With not-so-stellar grades and not being the most popular girl at school, the teenager is unsure about her future and identity. On the other hand, Ji Yu's boyfriend, Chan Seong, always seems care-free and busy with basketball and school. What's worse, Ji Yu's doubts slowly seep into her relationship, especially when she thinks he might be hooking up with Soo Jin, the popular girl who seemingly likes everyone but Ji Yu. But the new semester also brings new friendship, as Ji Yu finds community with a group of misfit girls, who are all facing their own challenges...

SKAM CROATIA - SRAM

Zagreb, Croatia. New high school, new life? That’s what Eva wishes it to be. Her relationship with Jakov, who urges her to find out who she actually is, seems rocky. Her former best friend Sara – Jakov’s ex – wants nothing more to do with her. And her greatest fear starts seeping in: Are Jakov and Sara seeing each other again? When Eva meets Nora, Tina, Nix, and Vanessa, things start to change. Will making new friends be enough to save her relationship with Jakov? Nora, on the other hand, knows exactly who she is (at least it seems that way). But when Tina’s crush Roko pursues Nora relentlessly, she struggles to navigate her developing feelings for him whilst hiding the secret from Tina. Through ups and downs, the girls navigate the difficult task of growing up, with all the perks and pitfalls that it entails.

ASTRID LINDGREN'S SEACROW ISLAND

Welcome to Seacrow Island, a perfect place for summer vacations! When the holiday guests arrive, there's new faces to see and new friends to make. Like Melker and his children Pelle, Elliot, Ivan, and the eldest, Malin, with her own daughter Skrållan, who arrive from Stockholm. It's not long before their run-down rental cottage becomes a holiday paradise and starting point for many adventures (and mishaps) with their new friends: little Tjorven, the daughter of the local shop owners, and her big dog Båtsman; Stina, who always spends the summer at her grandma's; and the grumpy neighbor, Uffe, who only cares about mowing his lawn. But when Uffe wants to sell the cottage, everyone pulls together so Melker and his kids can come back for another memorable summer.

Ida’s whole class is preparing for the annual Forest Day. Even Helene, whose family is facing bankruptcy, will be there. She’s hoping to gain followers and thus more income for her channel, while her magical animal, tomcat Karajan, demands a luxurious lifestyle. The vegan crocodile Rick secretly fears he can’t compete with the tough-looking Silas, who has his eye on Helene. Does Silias only have a chance with her if he wears a designer shirt? When Helene learns that her icon’s fashion show is to be held at the museum, she persuades the director to allow the class to perform there as well. But the fashion show is on the same day as Forest Day! The magical community is once more faced with big decisions...

The magical community at Winterstein School is in for another incredible adventure of friendship and the pain of first love.

Thrilling family fantasy adventure with Naomie Harris (SKYFALL, SPECTRE) and Gwendoline Christie (GAME OF THRONES). A fresh take on the legendary tale of ROBIN HOOD.

ROBIN AND THE HOODS

For the tenacious 11-year-old Robin and her loyal band of friends, “The Hoods”, the patch of overgrown scrubland at the end of their cul-de-sac is a magical kingdom. Sticks and bin lids are swords and shields, drones are majestic eagles, and the hippy lady in the forest is a terrifying witch. The only thing limiting their imagination is the prospect of losing their kingdom forever. When a slippery property developer, Clipboard, turns up and dazzles the parents of the area with promises of health spas and day-care facilities, Robin and The Hoods’ world is faced with demise. Despite the kids’ best efforts, their protests fall on deaf ears. But Robin and her friends take matters into their own hands to defend their kingdom!

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL meets FERRIS BUELLER'S DAY OFF: It's summer camp in the 90's, where being a 15-year-old was a breeze and life felt like a musical!

LET'S HAVE A GREAT TIME!

1992. David and his friends are three teenaged pals who call themselves "The Scamps". They're at summer camp to learn English. Yeah, right, more like anything BUT English! This summer, it's all about exploring life and embarking on new adventures. Especially romantic ones, which are always the most important adventures when you're fifteen. Oh, and there'll also be lots of singing and dancing – taking them to that elusive place called your own imagination, and sometimes even...to Mexico! Why? Because there is a special someone there: Layla. The Scamps try their hardest so David and Layla can see each other again – even breaking out of camp! The Scamps don't know it yet, but they're in for the summer of their lives.

ROSENTHAL: THE GREAT SHOWMAN

A body is found in a scene reminiscent of the 15th-century Inquisition trials. Captain Clara Baudran is forced to team up with her childhood sweetheart to stop the killer.

THE DOWAY MURDERS

After 20 years of overseas service, Police Captain Clara Baudran has just returned to her hometown of Doway with her teenage daughter. But their arrival is immediately disrupted when a body is found in a church, in a scene reminiscent of the region's 15th-century Inquisition trials. A mysterious list of names is found on the victim, suggesting this is the first of many. Now, Clara is forced to team up with Lieutenant Jérôme Santerre – her childhood sweetheart. Jérôme's knowledge of theology is useful in this case; after all, he wanted to become a priest years ago. It surely is a surprise for Clara that he's now a cop and the father of a teenager. But when the murderer's trail leads directly to the school both of their children attend, the case becomes personal in more ways than one... Will Clara and Jérôme be able to crack the case before the killer strikes again?

ROSENTHAL: THE GREAT SHOWMAN

Germany, 1978. Hans Rosenthal is the country's most popular TV presenter, and, what few people know: He is Jewish and a Holocaust survivor. The 75th edition of his beloved live game show is about to be broadcast, but the celebratory mood is dampened by the air date: November 9. Exactly 40 years after the Nazi pogrom against the Jewish population, Hans is expected to entertain and distract an audience of millions with his harmless TV show, rather than attend the first official German memorial for the victims. Hans finds himself in a moral dilemma: Has the Jewish showman become himself a henchman of repression? Or will he find the strength to address his family trauma?

MURDER BY THE LAKE

Level-headed Chief Inspector Svenja and her cheeky new colleague Antoine are anything but alike, yet all bets are on that they will become the new dynamic duo at the Baltic coast.

BALTIC FILES

For Hamburg Chief Inspector Svenja, a job offer at the precinct in her hometown at the German-Danish border is a win-win. It allows her to look after her ill father, and to take a fresh look at the strained relationship with her girlfriend Sanne. Alas, her cheeky new colleague Antoine is pretty much the exact opposite of the level-headed Svenja. While his brash manners collide with her bossy tone, the two have no choice but to quickly get used to each other's quirks. The investigations into a washed-up body and the kidnapping of a boy put the duo's emerging team spirit to its first tests. Now, time must tell whether Svenja and Antoine manage to throw their reservations overboard and become the new power pair at the Baltic Sea.

THE FOX

Anne is in her 50s and the kind of woman who doesn't care for chitchat, formalities, or feigning friendliness. During her years as a spy for East Germany, she always got right to the point; her resoluteness and quick decision-making were major assets in her life and career. Now, Anne and her business partner Youssef prefer to investigate on their own, as private detectives who are using every trick in the book. They make for an odd couple as they go on to solve case after case – bending the rules and making powerful enemies in the process – and sometimes, it gets very personal.

Disgraced white-collar lawyer Borchert is back in his native Zurich, on the run from German authorities. He sets out to clear his name, with reluctant help of his idealistic assistant – discovering larger crimes in the process...

MONEY. MURDER. ZURICH.

Maybe you can't make a killing in Zurich anymore, but it's still possible to kill and get killed... Attorney Thomas Borchert is back in his native Zurich. And if you need an ace lawyer specialized in financial manipulation, embezzlement, money laundering and the latest offshore scheme, he's your man. In fact, he knows both sides of the law pretty well, since he was fired without notice by his employer and charged with accepting astronomical bribes in a scandal in South America. Back in Zurich, Borchert wants to clear his name and find out who put the blame on him. Fleeing from the jurisdiction of the German authorities, he sets up his legal practice in a rickety trailer on his family's property in Zurich.

MOUNTAIN'S WHISPER

At first glance, Frank Koops is not much to look at – the overweight small-town cop has a huge problem hitting a target and requires lots of practice at the shooting range. But when push comes to shove, Koops might just show you what he's made of! Knowing his kind-of-backwoods hometown like the back of his hand, he can be a real asset to solving crimes that leave others at a loss. And so he is hot on the trail when 1.4 million Euros from a bank robbery vanish, or is the only one to keep a key witness safe when the mafia tries to murder her at any cost. One thing is for sure; this cop has a lot more going on than you might expect...

Zippering across the stunning landscape of Lake Constance, rich in color and crime, German homicide inspector Micha and his Austrian partner investigate murders that cross borders.

MURDER BY THE LAKE

With three nations – Germany, Switzerland, and Austria – sharing its shores, Lake Constance has stories to tell, of hidden secrets under water and of gruesome murders only mentioned in a whisper. This is the workplace of German homicide inspector Micha and his ever-changing Austrian partners. Unlike Hannah and her brilliant mind, Micha sees things pragmatically. But in the end, they enjoy each other’s company more than they’d like to admit. Micha’s new partner Luisa proves enigmatic. Although she is highly disciplined, confident, and incorruptible, the mistakes of her past catch up with her. And when Mara arrives, Micha finds that sarcasm, humor, and sensitivity are alien to her. Thus, he embarks on another exciting journey of discovery to find out why...

LONG STORY SHORT

Ten friends, three years, seven parties: When Ellen attends her best friends' New Year's Eve party in 2019, she's keeping a secret. She is having an affair with Sebastian, whom she believes to be her great love. However, he is married to Eva and naturally wants to keep it under wraps. There's a spark between Rolf and Dina. There's tension between Mareike and Adam. Maya longs for children, and Natalie can't make up her mind. Then Max shows up. He would love Ellen if only she would let him. Years pass and parties are celebrated as they come. There is love, arguments, laughter, and weddings. Children are born, people find each other, while others separate. Finally, fate serves as a reminder: Life must be lived intensely, with the best of friends and ideally in every single moment!

THE REMNANTS OF YOU

Young jazz pianist Sara lives in New York. She should be preparing for her first concert – instead, she returns to Spain when her father Julio, an organic livestock farmer, suddenly dies and she and her sister Elena inherit his farm and sheep. Yet Sara is burdened by grief and guilt. Only the visits with her grandfather in the nursing home bring her solace, maintaining the comforting lie that Julio is still alive. When Elena wants to sell the sheep, Sara opposes and cancels her concert to keep her father’s legacy alive. She connects with Tina, a vet and Julio’s girlfriend, and becomes involved in organic farming. But Sara feels the emptiness of a life she didn’t choose. She must forgive herself, accept the loss, and reclaim her own path.

A rescue pilot and a volcanologist are caught between danger and desire when a Volcano erupts on the Canary Islands. Starring William Levy (RESIDENT EVIL: THE FINAL CHAPTER).

UNDER A VOLCANO

After centuries of inactivity, a volcano on Tenerife is coming to life. With the situation under evaluation, rescue pilot Captain Mario Torres is sent to the island. His mission: If things turn south, he is to lead the evacuation efforts. But the experts on site don't expect an eruption. Only Dani, a headstrong but sidelined local volcanologist, is sure: The volcano will erupt! Mario isn't prepared for the true extent of the firestorm to come. As sparks fly between him and Dani, the volcano becomes a ticking time bomb. With nature's fury on the brink of an explosion, they are put to the ultimate test. Can they survive the chaos and protect what they hold dearest, or will the unpredictable forces of nature turn everything into ashes, including their hearts?
