A stylish and colorful crime drama set in London in 1946 with a thoroughly modern sensibility and tone. Executive produced, created by, and starring Emmy Award winner Mark Gatiss (SHERLOCK, DOCTOR WHO).

BOOKISH

In London's Archangel Lane, there is a bookshop aptly named after its eccentric but whip-smart owner, Book. A former military spy turned maverick detective, Book relishes helping the police solve their most complex murder cases. He lives happily with his sassy, exuberant wife, Trottie, who owns the wallpaper shop next door. Friends from childhood, they share a deep bond of love and respect for each other, but theirs is a 'lavender marriage' of mutual convenience. For Book is a gay man at a time when homosexuality is illegal. Blissfully happy at home, Book nevertheless carries with him a sadness, as the love of his life was betrayed and died in the war. When Jack, a young man with a past as an ex-convict, is sent to work at the bookshop, Book and Trottie welcome him into the family fold with open arms. But it's not long before Jack starts to suspect that his appointment was anything but random. Could their past be inextricably linked?

Professor T’s brilliant mind proves invaluable, but cracks in his carefully constructed, emotionless shell begin to appear. Working with the fiery, occasionally chaotic Lisa drags him out of his comfort zone and forces him to confront his suppressed feelings for an old flame, Detective Chief Inspector Christina Brand. The story of the biggest tax fraud in European history – and how two women fought to put an end to it. From the producers of BABYLON BERLIN and the BAFTA and International Emmy-awarded MILLENNIUM trilogy.

Pay a tax, get it refunded twice, and claim it's legal: That's a Cum-Ex deal. Young lawyer Sven Lebert and his boss, Dr. Bernd Hausner, expand this scheme to private investors, developing a global network of banks, lawyers, and investors that steal billions from European citizens. In Denmark, tax officials Inger Brøgger and Niels Jensen watch helplessly as state funds vanish, with little support from bankers or politicians. When Niels faces financial struggles and personal pressures, he loses his moral compass and joins the scheme. In Germany, District Attorney Lena Birkwald uncovers the massive fraud and faces fierce resistance from banks and politicians. Determined to prevent the usual outcome – where minor players are caught while the masterminds walk free – she fights tirelessly to bring those truly responsible to justice.
